Ideal for:

- Celebrations and Large Parties

- Staff team-building
- Fundraisers and Open Days

Board games? Yes! Well, technically tabletop games.

Games have evolved dramatically from the classics like Monopoly and Trivial Pursuit. With over 200 games in our library, all personally tried and tested, we believe our library is built-up of some of the best games out there - with something for everyone!

Everything from quick card games, tactical tile placing games and cozy resource building, to thought provoking roleplaying games, co-operative puzzle solving and sneaky social deduction games.

Sometimes a board game isn't just a game, it's sitting around a table with friends & family and checking-in with each other, meeting new people and making connections, supporting mental well-being or simply just having a great time.

It can even be developing and learning new skills like teamwork and communication, or pattern recognition and strategic planning.

Quite literally, it's something more than board games...

Our Board Game Library Hire delivers:

- A brand new crowd of customers in your commercial space
- Marketing ammunition that looks amazing on social media
- Happy employees who can bond and build team relationships
- Attendees & guests who'll definitely remember your event
- A new and unique 'edge' to your regular events calendar

What happens during an event:

Our games experts will arrive with a wide selection of games from our amazing board game library, tailored perfectly to your event. All of the games in our library are tried, tested and approved by our team personally.

We help facilitate groups, set up games, and cover full rule explanations in an easy to understand manner. We are always happy to recommend games for people to try out.

Our games experts are on hand to help throughout the entire event. Leaving your customer with more time playing and enjoying the event, and your staff never needing to take time away from their roles.

At the end of the event, we'll pack up our games and tidy any reserved games areas - no need for you to worry about the logistics. We take care of everything!

As part of our service we can also create posters and social media marketing, advertise your event on our website and social media, and will share any pictures taken during the event, free of charge.

For reoccurring bookings we keep note of which games are popular among your regular customers, making sure their favourites are available on demand. We also bring a fresh selection of games each time, so no two of your events are the same.

If you're excited about making your event and space one to remember, or bringing something new to your regular customers, then we are ready to play board games!
