Board games? Yes! Well, technically tabletop games.

Games have evolved dramatically from the classics like Monopoly and Trivial Pursuit. With over 200 games in our library, all personally tried and tested, we believe our library is built-up of some of the best games out there.

Everything from quick card games, tactical tile placing games and cozy resource building, to thought provoking roleplaying games, co-operative puzzle solving and sneaky social deduction games.

Our board game events offer a unique social experience, suitable for all ages and learning levels.

Sometimes a board game isn't just a game, it's sitting around a table with friends & family and checking-in with each other, meeting new people and making connections, supporting mental well-being or simply just having a great time. It can even be developing and learning new skills like teamwork and communication, or pattern recognition and strategic planning. Quite literally, it's something more than board games...

Our Board Game Library Hire delivers:

- A brand new crowd of visitors to commercial spaces
- Marketing ammunition that looks great on social media
- A new and unique 'edge' to your regular events calendar
- Social and fun events for your beneficiaries and community
- Attendees & guests who'll definitely remember your event and space

What happens during an event?

Our games teachers will arrive with a wide selection of games from our amazing board game library, tailored perfectly for your event. All of the games in our library are tried, tested and approved by our team personally.

We help facilitate the organisation of space and group, and will always recommend the best game for people to play.

If they don't feel comfortable learning the rules, our expert staff are on hand to help them out throughout the entire event.

At the end of the event, we'll pack up our games and tidy any reserved games areas - no need for you to worry about the logistics. We take care of everything!

As part of our service we can also create posters and social media marketing, advertise your event on our website and social media, and will share any pictures taken during the event, free of charge.

For reoccurring bookings we keep note of which games are popular among your regular customers, making sure their favourites are available on demand. We also bring a fresh selection of games each time, so no two of your events are the same.

If you're excited about making your event one to remember, or bringing something new to your regular customers, then we are ready to play board games!
