

Corporate Team-Building and Social Hire Brochure

Our board game library hire is designed to bring the benefits of gaming, but without the hassle, to you!

Ideal for:

- Staff team-building exercises
- Christmas parties and other social events
- Fundraisers and Open Days

Board games? Yes! Well, technically tabletop games.

Games have evolved dramatically from the classics like Monopoly and Trivial Pursuit. With over 200 games in our library, all personally tried and tested, we believe our library is built-up of some of the best modern and vintage games out there.

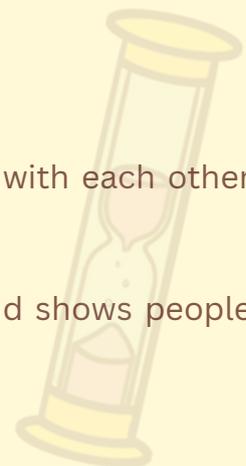

Everything from quick card games, tactical tile placing games and cozy resource building, to thought provoking roleplaying games, co-operative puzzle solving and sneaky social deduction games.

Board games help make lasting connections, support mental well-being and reward your team with a fun memorable experience whilst helping to develop and learn new skills like: teamwork, communication, pattern recognition and strategic planning.

Quite literally, it's something more than board games...

Our Board Game Library Hire delivers:

- Happy employees who can bond and build team relationships .
- A way of helping new hires and existing employees integrate with each other and learn how to work efficiently together.
- A fun rewarding day to thank your staff for their hard work.
- Marketing ammunition that looks amazing on social media and shows people your company is a great place to work.

What happens during an event:

Our games experts will arrive with a wide selection of games from our amazing board game library, tailored perfectly to your team building or social event. If you would like us to follow a specific theme for your team building activities, we are able to provide a breakdown of games and their qualities. e.g Communication games, puzzle solving, ice-breakers.

All of the games in our library are tried, tested and approved by our team personally.

We help facilitate groups, set up games, and cover full rule explanations in an easy to understand manner.

Our games experts are on hand to help throughout the entire event, leaving guests with more time playing and enjoying the event, and focusing on tasks at hand.

As part of our service we can also create posters and digital media marketing, and will share any pictures taken during the event, free of charge.

If you're excited about making your event one to remember, then we are ready to play board games!

Why Hire More Than Board Games?

Our team are board game fans, so when we say we know our stuff and really love board games... we mean it. With enhanced DBS checks, and public liability insurance; We are welcoming, professional and most importantly, fun!

More Than Board Games is a Community Interest Company, meaning supporting people and communities is at the very core of our work.

We are a not-for-profit company and by hiring us, not only will your event be great fun all round, but the money we make from hiring our library is used to support our community projects and offer games and events to those in need.

Good for you, good for us, good for the community.
